[URGENT: RESPONSE REQUIRED WITHIN 24 HOURS to keep your instances accessible]

Dear Amazon EC2 Customer,

We've received a report that your instance(s):

Instance Id: *****
IP Address: *****

has been posting, distributing, or hosting unlicensed copyright protected content. This is specifically forbidden by our Customer Agreement, located at <http://aws.amazon.com/agreement/>. A copy of the complaint identifying the allegedly infringing content is below.

Please remove the allegedly infringing content within 24 hours of receiving this notice. If you do not remove the content, we will take whatever steps are necessary to disable access to the content, up to and including suspension of your account.

It's possible that your environment has been compromised by an external attacker. It remains your responsibility to ensure that your instances and all applications are secured. The link <http://developer.amazonwebservices.com/connect/entry.jspa?externalID=1233> provides some suggestions for securing your instances.

If you believe the content referenced in the complaint is not infringing, you may provide a written counter-notice to our Agent for Notice of Claims (see address below). The counter-notice must include the following information:

1. Identify the material that was removed or disabled, and the location where it appeared before it was removed or disabled;
2. A statement by you declaring under penalty of perjury that you have a good faith belief that the material at issue was either misidentified or mistakenly removed;
3. Your name, address and telephone number;
4. A statement that you consent to the jurisdiction of the federal district court for the judicial district in which your address is located, and that you will accept service of process from the person who provided the complaint set forth above (if you are located outside of the United States, you must state that you consent to the jurisdiction of any United States federal district court in which we may be found); and
5. Your physical or electronic signature.

Please be aware that false statements in your written counter-notice may lead to civil or criminal penalties.

Copyright Infringement Notification [Case #306731]

Dear Host,

WhatsApp, Inc. is the exclusive owner of the trademark, service mark, and copyrights, including WhatsApp, as well as all of its images, likenesses, and rights of publicity. It does not endorse or seek publicity in regard to any business or commercial enterprise or any endeavor not related to WhatsApp, Inc. As such, WhatsApp Inc. vigilantly protects its intellectual property rights and does not tolerate any infringement of the same.

WhatsApp, Inc. has discovered that a site hosted by you makes unauthorized use of WhatsApp APIs, software, and/or services by offering and charging for a service that uses our copyrighted mobile application, to send bulk messages to millions of our users, without authorization.

The infringing URL is located at:

<http://yosapp.com/>

The WhatsApp mobile application and its APIs are protected by copyright laws and their use for a service without authorization infringes upon WhatsApp, Inc.'s intellectual Property rights. The WhatsApp mobile application can be found for download at the address <http://www.whatsapp.com>.

WhatsApp, Inc. requests that you remove or disable access to the Infringing Material at the URL identified above.

I have good faith belief that the use of the copyrighted material described above is not authorized by the copyright owner, WhatsApp, Inc., its agent, or by protection of law.

I swear under penalty of perjury, that the information in the notification is accurate and that I am the copyright owner or am authorized to act on behalf of the owner of an exclusive right that is allegedly infringed.
